

Youth Entrepreneurship Forum

Thursday, December 15, 2011 ▲ College of Charleston

Keynote Speaker:

Daniel Russell-Einhorn,
Charleston Entrepreneur &
Co-Owner of affordabike

FORUM FACTS

- Who: South Carolina High School Students with their Teacher/Advisor
- What: JA Titan® Business Simulation Competition with Prizes and Interactive Entrepreneurship & Financial Literacy Sessions
- When: Dec 15, 2011 - 8:30am to 3:30pm – Box Lunch Provided by Chic-fil-A
- Where: Beatty Center at the College of Charleston School of Business
- Why: Have Fun – Compete for Prizes – Build Resume – Visit a College Campus
- Cost: Free! Space will fill up quickly – Register Today: www.JACoastalSC.org

Don't miss this opportunity to participate in a day of experiential learning while visiting the College of Charleston campus in beautiful downtown Charleston, SC!

Using Junior Achievement's high school simulation program, JA Titan®, the JA Titan Challenge is a competition which places high school students in the CEO seat to help increase their understanding of business. Young entrepreneurs are taught in an engaging way about the nuances of running a global business in a competitive, high-tech marketplace. Student teams of 2 have complete control of managing and operating their own virtual business and making key decisions. Companies (teams) are challenged to outperform the competition in profit, sales, and market share. Students are encouraged to practice online before the day of the event on the JA Titan online demo: <http://oldtitan.ja.org/>

For additional information about the Youth Entrepreneurship Forum, please contact:

Junior Achievement of Coastal South Carolina - CoastalSC.Programs@JA.org | 843.745.7050

Presented by:

Hosted by:

Event Managed by:

Lunch provided by:

